Modular compact Bench systems: The H-Line impresses with its compact design and low overall depth – ideal for rooms with limited space. Thanks to its modular system, it is available in both Dining table and High table height and offers maximum flexibility for a wide range of applications. Three high-quality finishes are available for customised design: classic black, friendly light oak and elegant dark walnut. Seat upholstery and back upholstery are available in various upholstery options, allowing harmonious integration into any room concept. The generously sized modules with few joints create a calm, elegant overall appearance, while the sophisticated design with a reduced number of intermediate supports ensures high stability – ideal for long-lasting use in demanding contract environments.
